WHAT WE DO

Open Source

All of our own code is open source. We embrace the open source community by releasing our website, api and discord bot to the public at dapper.codes.

Development (SOON)

If you're looking for a great discord bot but can't be bothered to create one yourself, we can help you out too! We're selling some of our private bots and we're accepting custom offers here.

One on one (SOON)

If you're looking for a more personal way of getting help with coding, feel free to fill out the form. One on one tutoring isn't a free service. We've got our ticket system for helping you out in the discord server if you want to keep it free.
